HAVE YOU NOTED ANY CHANGES?

That is the question we have been asked most often since our return.

Our answer has been an unequivocal yes.

It is surprising what can happen to a community in a little more than two years.

In Campbell's case most of the changes have been for the better. Many of them are little ones which have occurred in such a gradual manner during our absence that those who have remained here sort of take for granted.

-o-

BASICALLY, of course, the major alteration has been the continued growth of the area.

We read about the thousands who pour into California each month. But it sort of creeps up on one. Unless, as in our case, you go away for a couple of years. Then one really sees the results of the influx.

When we left in 1962 the population of Campbell was approximately 13,000. The new special census is expected to reveal that about 20,000 people now live within the city limits.

This increase of 7,000, by the way, is about what the population was of the city when we first came to town in 1956.

-o-

DURING OUR ABSENCE some of the older buildings have been demolished and new business areas have sprung up.

The magnificent Breuner's establishment on Hamilton was only under construction when we left and the Campbell Plaza shopping center was still an orchard.

The widening of Winchester at that diabolical Camden intersection is probably the most noticeable street improvement. But we realize that many other thoroughfares throughout the city have also been widened and resurfaced.

But street improvements, as we all recognize, is a continuous thing and a never ending one.

But, shucks, it is no different here really than in other parts of the state...Just think of the worries the freeway builders have. They never will catch up.

-o-

CAMPBELL PARK is to get a new "comfort station." We attended the council meeting when the contract for this project was awarded. The low bid was $7,600 which should take care of a lot of comfort.

We WERE intending to add a small bathroom to our new house.

AS AN OLD PRO at this newspapering bit we generally take for granted that our presence is desired at most affairs, es-

BATTER UP THIS SUNDAY—Four Campbell Little League teams, Knights of Pythias vs. Campbell Stamps and Breuner's vs. Towne Pride, will play in the San Jose municipal ball park this Sunday, May 10, starting at 1 p.m. as part of the "Campbell Day" program. It will also mark the 25th anniversary of Little League. Ted Regas will MC the program between the double-header of San Jose Bees and Salinas Mets in which local sports celebrities will be honored.

Council protests removal of trees

Saving trees and saving money were the prime concerns of the City Council Monday night in a lengthy special meeting.

During the course of the evening, the council vigorously protested any suggestion that the stately and ancient walnut trees on Campbell Avenue at the railroad crossing be removed.

City Manager Robert Stephens relayed to the council that American Auto, owners of the corner lot at Harrison and Campbell, had suggested that the firm would be willing to remove the walnut tree that is on city property when the company was removing the walnut tree next to it on the American Auto land while abating weeds on the lot.

COUNTY RADIO

The council also directed City Manager Robert Stephens and Police Chief John Morgan to explore further the possibility of installing this city's own communication system to replace the service now furnished by the county.

Morgan had indicated that the county had in-

ROTARY PRESIDENT-ELECT--George R. Maxwell, Campbell fire chief, has been elected president of the Rotary Club for the 1964-65 year. He will be installed June 29. He will succeed Ted J. Regas, manager of the Campbell branch of the Bank of America.

JC offers counter proposal

Trustees of West Valley Junior College have approved a $115 "seat" charge as a counter proposal to San Jose City College's charge of $150 for West Valley students continuing their studies next year at City College.

Dr. Wallace W. Hall, WVJC president, said there could be various ways of figuring seat charges, but in the City College computation, they neglected to give credit to the West Valley District for the more than $2 million in "seat charges" already paid by local taxpayers to the San Jose Unified School District on behalf of the City College.

This credit would reduce the principle and hence the interest on the invested capital from $71.11 per ADA to $53.33. The president noted "No business requires the borrower pay interest on more than the remaining unpaid principle."

SUFFERS HEART ATTACK-- Richard Mayne, 38, of 825 Rickey Drive, coroner's investigator and a former Campbell councilman, was taken to the Campbell Community Hospital at 5 a.m. last Friday suffering from a heart attack. He was first given artificial resuscitation by the Campbell Fire Department.

Campbell people to go western

All next week residents of Campbell have been urged to wear western garb to emphasize the fact that the community will celebrate the 72nd annual Old Settlers Day May 14-17.

Fire Chief George Maxwell is chairman of the western apparel project. His firefighters are setting the pace by wearing Stetson hats and the whole bit for the week preceding the big event.

Either western wear or other clothing reminiscent of the past will be suitable, Maxwell points out.

At the Chamber of Commerce kickoff luncheon next Wednesday, May 13, at the Villa Felice, all C of C members are also urged to come attired in western getups.

The celebration really gets off the ground this Sunday, May 10, at the San Jose municipal ball park when it will be "Campbell Day."

Student body honors champs at reception

Campbell High School's state champion speakers will be honored at a reception given by the Student Council today at 3 p.m. at the Campbell High cafeteria.

At the state speech finals held in Santa Barbara last week, the articulate local highschool speech team won the sweepstakes title.

The Campbell High team won four state championships out of twelve available in the competition.

This marks the first time in the history of California speech competition that a school has four state championships in one year. Campbell is also the only school from northern California to win the state title for the past five years and the only school from northern California to reach the final round of debate in the past five years. There were 432 entries in the state competition representing 124 schools.

FIRST PLACE

First place winners included Barbara Scott, girls' impromptu; Jon Rowberry, boys' impromptu; Mary Neal, debate and John Ritter, debate. John also took third place in boys' impromptu.

The reception today will honor the 11 students' speech and debate finalists. Rick Moore and Steve Brydon, the other Campbell debate team, contributed four points toward the sweepstakes victory. Others taking part in the state tournament included Tim Hegstrom, Mary Beyer, Ken Becker, Penny Wright, John Gibson.

Of the 11 who participated Jon Rowberry, John Ritter and Mary Neal qualified for the nationals. They will compete this summer in the National Tournament in Akron, Ohio. This will be the first year that any student from the Campbell Union High School District has qualified for the nationals.

RECEPTION

The 11 top student speakers and their parents will be honored guests at the reception at which school district

Close to the people

City councils of cities of the size of Campbell are in an enviable position. They are closer to the people than any other legislative body in this rather complex structure that makes up the American government.

But we know that many councilmen who have dodged brickbats from irate citizens on occasion will take issue with that. They will claim, and with some justification, that being so close to the people is a disadvantage. The people are also closer to their targets. They will add that being a councilman is an unenviable and thankless job and that often they are unjustly criticized for simply doing their civic duty.

But no matter how exasperating a situation may become, we believe that this closeness-to-the-people can not be over-emphasized.

It is only at the city council-citizen level that any real meaning can be given to so-called "grass roots" opinions. In small cities, viewpoints of citizens are easily obtained and their opinions should be cultivated.

That is why we maintain that city business (with the exception of personnel and a few other matters) should be conducted by a city council openly and in full view of the public.

We grant that city business perhaps could be expedited, if the councilmen would get together beforehand to discuss matters on the agenda, as has been the case with the Campbell city council.

But, in our opinion, expediting is not the main objective when the public is involved.

There is probably nothing illegal in these pre-council discussion sessions and we feel that the councilmen are conscientiously trying to do a better job because of them.

We hold, however, that the Campbell city council should try to worry along without these pre-game sessions.

In our opinion, their objectives can be too easily misconstrued when you are that close to the people.

Potential still here

It does one good to be away from an area for a period of time. Upon returning one is aware of the many improvements that have taken place that are taken for granted by those who remain close to the scene.

The trite expression of "one can't see the forest for the trees" is applicable when describing one's reaction.

Campbell is a case in point.

There have been many improvements made in our community during the past two years, but they have been developed in such a gradual manner that those who have lived continuously here hardly notice them.

Granted that there are many things yet to be done before the community reaches the level that most of us want, the fact remains that giant strides have been taken already and there is a definite improvement on many fronts.

Campbell has always been fortunate in sort of a backhanded way.

The community has always had the potential, but developing it has always been the problem.

Now we see visible evidence that the potential has been recognized by others than just the visionary ones. But it has taken a long time.

Your editor has been away from this area for more than two years. Many of the problems that existed in 1962, we must admit still exist today. But there have been changes made.

We concede that Campbell Avenue was a worriesome issue when we were here before. And it is today.

But there are many other improvements to the community that have taken place in the past two years that present a remarkable show of progress.

We have long felt that Campbell has a definite potential. It has much to offer residents, shopping centers and industry.

After an absence of more than two years, we now see definite signs, not present before, that there is a general awakening to the potential that has always been present.

Judge Richard Rhodes explains meaning of Law Day in talk

On May 1, Judge Richard Rhodes, of the Los Gatos-Campbell-Saratoga Municipal Court, explained the purpose of Law Day.

He called attention to the blessings that flow to every citizen of our country because we live under a system of laws that protect our freedom.

The following is the speech that Judge Rhodes delivered:

LAW DAY

Today we Americans are celebrating the 7th Annual Law Day - U. S. A.

Former President Eisenhower proclaimed the first Law Day on May 1, 1958. The 1st of May was selected as Law Day because May Day is the traditional day of Red celebration. While communists ballyhoo their oppressive dictatorial form of government, it is singularly appropriate that we free people in the United States of America focus our attention on the blessings that flow to every citizen of our Country because we live under a system of laws that protects our freedom.

SINCE 1958

Every year since 1958, the President of our Country has proclaimed May 1 to be Law Day - U.S.A. The 1964 theme declared by President Johnson is: Observe the Law - Key to Order, Justice, Freedom.

Today is the day for all of us to give serious thought to our heritage of freedom under law. But more than that let us vow that, as we live our lives in this great Country, we will not take this heritage for granted.

Our government is a Republic, which is the finest form of government ever devised by man. The Executive and all other powers of government come from the people. Thus, the majority in power at any particular time cannot violate the people's basic rights.

The founders of our Republic were the makers of our Constitution.

BILL OF RIGHTS

Our Bill of Rights recognizes that we have basic rights and freedoms: freedom of worship, of speech and of the press; freedom of assembly; freedom from unreasonable searches and seizures as to one's person and property; freedom to own property, to work where we choose; freedom to act as free men and women.

Why did our Founding Fathers insist on individual liberty under law? Because liberty without law is license, and law without liberty is tyranny.

Our Government is made up of three branches:

1. Executive
2. Legislative
3. Judicial

We can say that the Legislative Branch enacts our laws; the Administrative Branch administers our laws and the Judicial Branch interprets our Laws. Our Judicial Branch also protects the rights of all our people and determines if laws enacted are constitutional.

No law passed by the legislature and approved by our President can be enforced if it violates our Constitution, as interpreted by our Supreme Court.

Because each of the three branches of our government has certain duties to perform and because each is independent of the other two, we have a system of checks and balances which really works.

DIFFERENCE

Just what is the difference between our way of life and that of Russia and other communist nations? Reduced to its essentials we can say that our Democratic Form of Government is government by law while communist government is government by one man or a few men.

In our Country, our laws are bigger than any man.

Under communism, a man - one man - is bigger than the law. His aims, his whims and his self-imposed need to stay in power are the final factors.

STRONG LINK

Law is the strongest link between man and freedom. In order to safeguard and extend individual freedom, we must observe and respect the law. All Americans must help strengthen our freedoms by observing and respecting the law, and by recognizing the other obligations of citizenship in our free society.

The guarantees of law, including the assurance that all men are equal under the law, are the prime sources of the strength of the individual in a free society. In these days of contest with the reds on fronts all over the world, this strength is being called upon as never before.

Our celebration of Law Day is a reminder and a reinforcement of those strengths, upon which rest the hope and confidence of the free world.

More about pecially athletic contests. In fact we can't keep up with the invites.

So we were quite surprised to be asked to leave the field at the Little League game at Rosemary last Saturday. We thought we were simply minding our newspaper business in the taking of action pictures. But the home-plate umpire apparently thought otherwise.

Although it was a new experience for us, we left without putting up any argument. The umpire said we could appeal to Bill McLain, league prexy. But we weren't in an appealing mood.

Shucks fellows, we thought we were just doing a service. We didn't mean any harm. Honest.

And we simply can't afford telescopic lens at this time.

All-out consideration by Congress of President Johnson's program for a "war on poverty" has shown how difficult it is to draw one line which separates a state of poverty from a proper living standard.

In the 1960 Presidential campaign we heard the allegation that 17 million Americans went to bed hungry every night. Now in 1964 President Johnson tells us that there are 35 million who, by his measure of impoverishment, live in poverty. Obviously the number of poverty-stricken Americans has not doubled in the last four years, so the difference can be explained by the use of different yardsticks to measure the extent of poverty. President Johnson uses the income level of $3,000 a year as the dividing point.

In 1935 when the population of the U.S. was 128 million and we were in depression, President Roosevelt said one-third of the nation -- 43 million -- was in poverty. Today after thirty years of expanding government relief programs, this number has been reduced, according to President Johnson's standards, by only 8 million. In fairness it should be pointed out that with a population of 191 million the number in poverty today is a smaller percentage of our total population than it was in Roosevelt's day. But the stubborn prevalence of a high number of impoverished citizens raises the question of whether poverty can ever be eliminated as long as dollar income is the measure.

Eight million families with less than $2,000 income own their own homes and 86% of them have no mortgage. Obviously these persons are better off than their neighbor with a higher income who must pay rent. A retired couple whose family is raised and educated can sometimes get along well on a $3,000 income while another family might starve. Furthermore, some family budgets are supplemented by such things as vegetable gardens, fishing, hunting and side jobs paid for in cash.

In 1929, 31% of our people had family incomes under $2,000 as compared with 12% in 1962. But lowered purchasing power has made the plight of this 12% far more desperate than it was in 1929. As the dollar has become worth less and less the dividing line between poverty and sufficiency has necessarily gone higher and higher.

The poverty line the President has drawn is even more interesting when compared with Great Britain, one of the great industrial and commercial nations of the world. Under the LBJ criterion, 75% of the British white population falls below the standard. So, our free enterprise system has allowed us the luxury of attaching the label of "poverty" to a level of income which is considered high in other countries.

Though we all agree something should be done to help the povertv stricken help themselves, we should remember that over-reliance upon an artificial money standard will only cause our goal to be further away with each forward step. Someday the "poverty line" may rise to $12,000 and a future politician may win the heart of the nation by proposing a social program to bring everybody's income up to a level of $1,000 per month.

PRESIDENT--Mrs. Lee Mondragon has been elected the first president of the Campbell Community Hospital Auxiliary.

The new members adopted a set of by-laws and Mrs. William Smeed, the vice president, was assigned the duty of coordinating work schedules for auxiliary members. All those present signed up for the days and hours they can work.

In the beginning, the Auxiliary will serve at the hospital from noon to 4 p.m., Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays. Various services to patients and relatives will be performed by the Auxiliary. The women are also interested in forming a Junior Auxiliary of teen-age girls as soon as their own work is underway. In fact, they decided to wear solid turquoise color uniforms so they could reserve stripes for their juniors. In the future meetings will be held once a month. Installation of officers was held yesterday with Dr. Robert M. Wade, President of the Board of Directors of the Hospital, as the installing officer.

Buc Frosh, Soph team undefeated

Campbell High's Frosh-Soph baseball team has extended its two year win streak to 10 consecutive games with a 5 to 0 victory over the Los Gatos Wildcats. Buc pitcher Don Hahn contributed a one hit pitching job along with batting power to pull out this league win.

Al Shimizu and Dave Maas both contributed extra-base hits to drive in the Buc runs. Maas' double was the best hit of the game but circumstances only allowed it to be a two-base drive.

Don Hahn now has a 4 and 0 league record and the Buc team is hitting in the upper two hundreds. The Frosh-Sophers are trying for their second consecutive league championship and second undefeated season.

Gibbons breaks hop-stop record

Campbell High's Tom Gibbons broke the valley hop-step and jump record by recording a distance of 46 feet and 2 inches. This hop-step or triple jump surpassed the previous record by two feet.

The game is part of the many events scheduled for the 72nd Old Settlers' Celebration May 13 through 17 which are sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce. Game time is 7:30 p.m.

Donkeys for the game are being furnished by Walt Baxter of Riverside. What is donkey baseball? Well, it seems the players must ride, push or drag their donkeys with them wherever they go while playing, and must be mounted when throwing the ball or running the bases. All of this sans saddle! It should be a hilarious evening for all the spectators.

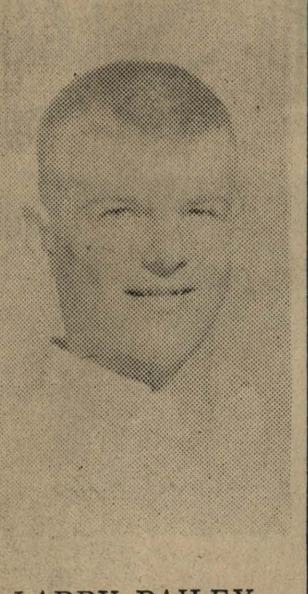
Baseball's their game



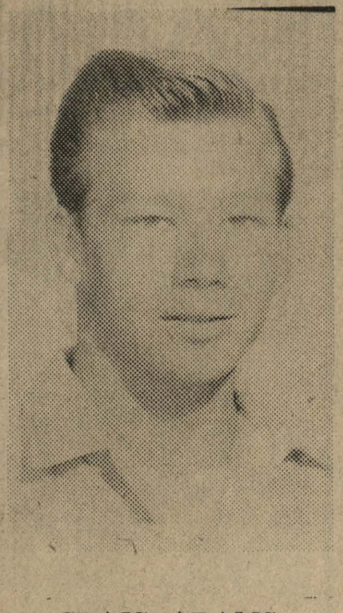
LARRY BAILEY

Larry Bailey, son of Mr. and Mrs. James S. Bailey, is one of the few juniors on the Campbell High Varsity baseball team. An all-league Frosh-Soph baseballer last season, Larry is part of the extreme depth on the Buc team.

Larry has played "B" and Varsity football where he also excelled to all-league status. When asked about this season's baseball team, Larry replied, "We have plenty of depth and we are more developed than last year's team as far as our capabilities."

Larry was also asked his reaction to the large crowd of spectators at the Campbell-Blackford game. To this he said, "Big crowds help make you feel that you want to win for the school as well as for yourself."

Next year Larry's potential in both football and baseball should reopen but he will show his skills at Westmont High.



CRAIG ADAMS

Last baseball season, only one sophomore played on the Varsity team. This one player was Craig Adams, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward L. Adams of 390 Castro Court. Craig is the third baseman and has the potential of being one of the strongest hitters on the strong Buc Varsity.

Craig feels that "this year's team is real great and has a lot of possibilities. We hope to go a long way."

In Craig's future is a "lot of baseball" and college at either UCLA or SJS. He hopes to major in the math field.

In closing Craig was asked his opinion of crowds. "They put the pressure on you but it helps in the long run when you know you have a lot of people backing you."

College hires sixty percent of its teachers

Trustees of West Valley Junior College last night appointed 21 faculty members, the first of an expected 45 full-time instructors for 1964-65, President Wallace W. Hall has announced. Approximately sixty per cent --30 instructors--have been selected, with acceptance yet to be confirmed by some, he said. The remaining fulltime positions—15—are to be filled by the end of May.

President Hall announced also that the state Division of Architecture has reviewed and approved plans and cost estimates for the remodeling of WVJC's temporary campus, in Campbell, and that bids have been requested.

Bids on the alteration project, expected to cost approximately $192,000 will be opened and contracts let May 7, with the remodeling to be completed by September 7, the president said.

Approximately $25,000 have been budgeted for the purchase of library books during the current year, and orders are being processed, the trustees were advised. Librarian Hubert Hall said several years will be needed, however, to acquire an adequate number of books for all of the college's instruction areas.

Bruce F. Allen, board chairman, said district architects are visiting possible sites for the location of a permanent campus. Allen said the architects hope to make their site-selection recommendations to the Board some time next month.

High school honors champs

officials, PTA leaders, city officials and community leaders have been invited.

The Campbell team gave evidence of being a major speech power early in the year when the school copped the sweepstakes titles from Overfelt High School Individuals Tournament, the Blackford Debate Tournament, and the Fremont Tournament.

Campbell then gained top honors in northern California by winning the National Forensic League, San Francisco Bay District Tournament in February. In this tournament, three Campbell students, Mary Neal, John Ritter and Jon Rowberry qualified for the national tournament in Akron, Ohio. Only six students from northern California can compete in this tourney.

BIG YEAR

Finally last month Campbell swept the Coast Forensics League state qualifying tournament in which 30 schools took part. Campbell set a record by having 18 entries in the semi-final round. Each school was allowed to enter only 20 students.

And then the climax to the most successful speech season in the school's history came last week when Campbell High won the state championship in Santa Barbara.

Council protests tree removal

tended to greatly increase the annual contract price of $2,000 for the communication service now offered the city. He suggested that should the raise be out of line, the city should consider installing its own system. He estimated that such a project would cost the city $20,000 which would include equipment and the necessary personnel to operate it.

The council recommended that further exploration be made on the project and in the meantime will submit a vigorous protest to the supervisors against the anticipated raise which could be as high as 1000% over what the city is now paying.

OTHER MATTERS

In other matters the meeting Monday, the council:

1. AFFIRMED the current policy on plan lines which specifies that property within plan lines must be dedicated to the city, before a building permit is issued.

2. APPROVED Mayor Charles Rose and Councilman Ed Rogers as a committee to discuss boundaries with representatives of the San Jose City Council.

3. DIRECTED more study be made of the proposal that would "trade" acreage in the Rincon Park for acreage along the San Tomas Expressway. The Water Conservation District wants to use 4.5 acres of the park for a percolation pond. The council asked the staff to prepare a plan as how the park could be developed in this manner.

4. APPROVED to include in the preliminary budget funds for the improvement of Esther Ave.

5. APPROVED the recommendation of the city manager that a salary survey be conducted on a comparable basis with other cities including Livermore, Los Altos, Los Gatos, Milpitas, Newark, and Walnut Creek.

6. APPROVED a joint meeting with the Planning Commission, and the Downtown Redevelopment Committee to discuss the redevelopment of downtown Campbell Ave. and to evaluate land use and zoning in the Railway, Gilman and Dillon areas.

7. DIRECTED the public works director to proceed to explore the possibilities of arousing the interest of property owners to improve their properties under the 1911 improvement act. This would allow the city to contribute funds in the installation of sidewalks, curbs and gutters.

More Latimer acres face rezoning

Another section of the Latimer neighborhood flanking the West Hamilton Ave. extension is being considered for rezoning in varying residential densities by the Campbell Planning Commission. Fifty-five acres owned by Vlaho Pruvich, within a short distance from a future busy intersection, the extension of Hamilton across the San Tomas Expressway, is being considered for "transitional" zoning.

The change in zoning is protested by several Latimer neighborhood residents, including Robert Sneed, 241 Victor, who initiated the petition for a referendum on the rezoning of 10 acres of additional Latimer property recently. City Planner Overen said the rezoning is not out of line with the General Plan adopted in 1961, which calls for medium density north and south of Hamilton Avenue.

Commissioner Harry Lee moved to adopt a resolution to rezone the property P-D (Planned Development) from the north city boundary line to approximately 700 feet from the southerly line of the future extension of Hamilton Avenue. The remaining 3 lot depth to the north side of Latimer Avenue will continue as R-1. Commissioner Frank Klein voted against the resolution.

Home furnishing course offered

"Plan Your Home for Living," the advanced home furnishing short course, will be offered by University of California home economist, Winifred Steiner. The class will include information on furniture arrangement, rugs and carpets, new fabrics and materials and accessories.

Interested Campbell women can attend the classes at the Stevens Creek Emporium on Thursday mornings: May 14, 28 and June 4. Starting time is 9:30 a.m. the first morning to allow time for registration. Thereafter the time will be from 9:45 to 11:30 a.m. No fees are charged and no materials to be purchased. This is the only time this year that the course will be offered.

Beauticians installed

Group installation of officers by the Cosmetologists Association was held at the Elks Club in Watsonville last Saturday night. Group installation of officers for five chapters is an annual event. Watsonville was the host affiliate this year. Other chapters who installed officers were San Jose, Monterey-Carmel, Salinas, and Santa Cruz. Other local officers are Arch Young, first vice president: Roy Boatright, second vice president: Juanita Renshaw, recording secretary: Larie Ramaso, corresponding secretary: Jim Haggard, treasurer.

The San Jose chapter walked off with all the trophies at a recent styling contest held in Monterey. Mervyn Ferreira of the Towne Square Beauty Salon in Campbell took first place.

Possible parking sites appraised for JC officials

West Valley Junior College trustees, looking for off-street parking sites for their future temporary campus in Campbell, received an appraised lease value report on two nearby possible parking sites from their specially appointed appraiser, Mr. Emerson Owen. Trustees expect WVJC to utilize the temporary campus for three years.

Board Chairman Bruce F. Allen recommended that leasing costs of other possible parking sites be determined before any decision is made.

Sites which have been appraised are the Rose property, two-and-a-half acres immediately north of WVJC's future temporary home (Campbell Grammar School), and 10 acres of the Gomes property between Latimer and Hamilton Aves.

Campbell-Moreland Districts announce summer programs

Both the Campbell Union School District and the Moreland School District have announced their schedules for the summer. The Campbell District recreation department is planning another funpacked summer for all children who live near these school playgrounds: Rosemary, Hamilton, Dover, Hazelwood, San Tomas, Forest Hill, Marshall Lane and Rolling Hills Schools. Playgrounds will be open for organized weekly activities beginning Monday, July 6, and continuing through Friday, August 7.

Each playground will provide supervised recreation activities for children at all grade levels above kindergarten. Children can participate in major sports as well as quiet indoor games. One major activity is the daily arts and crafts program. Two shop programs will be available for boys of seventh and eighth grade levels, to encourage woodworking and metal projects.

There will also be a summer music program at Campbell's Cherry Lane School this year. Classes are available in advanced, intermediate or beginning strings, woodwinds, brass, orchestra and band. Piano, guitar and accordian are not offered in this program. Dates of the course are July 6 - August 6. Cost is $15 for students of the District from incoming fourth graders to outgoing eighth graders. Other district students are eligible for a five dollar additional fee. Edward Tonini will again direct the program.

Moreland School District will offer summer school in four district schools, Amber Drive, Baker, Easterbrook and Rogers Junior High School. The summer music program will be conducted at Castro Junior High School.

The primary children will be taught the regular elementary school subjects. The intermediate level children will have the opportunity to select subjects according to their interest and ability.

There will be a $16.50 charge for the summer music program but there is no charge for the regular summer program. The hours for the regular summer school are 8:20 to 11:40 a.m. and music will be taught between 9 and 12 a.m. R. Douglas Reinecke is the director of Moreland Summer School and Thomas Geran is directing the summer music program. Children in both districts should have a busy and happy summer.

Boundary proposals under negotiation

Preliminary proposals for a San Jose-Campbell boundary agreement were presented to the San Jose City Council last week for study. The Campbell proposal suggests that San Jose disannex something in access of 300 acres, including the high value 80-acre Ainsley property at the north-east corner of Hamilton and South Bascom. In return, Campbell will disannex 50 acres of residential property adjacent to the Mary Jane Hamann Park.

The Campbell plan also sets a general boundary line west of Bascom Ave. from the Los Gatos city limits to Dry Creek Road, then along Dry Creek to Meridian Road. On the north, the existing San Jose-Campbell line would prevail generally and on the west the line would run primarily west of San Tomas Aquino road and Harriet Ave.

San Jose's plan calls for existing boundary lines to remain in effect in all areas, with no disannexations. Developed residential areas along the fringes would be annexed to either city, with residents making the choice. The proposals were worked up at the request of the County Local Agency Formation Commission.

Chamber of Commerce members had a ball ...you might say

At a recent Campbell Chamber of Commerce monthly luncheon meeting, a number of otherwise staid business and professional people became models for the day. A fashion show to end all fashion shows was staged.

In this pictorial display (an exclusive with The Campbell Press, we should hope so) some of the most conservative members of our business community are depicted displaying their wares.

Can you pick them out? (For reasons known to us as well as others, the names of the participants are not being disclosed at this time. But we are happy to furnish some clues.

But in this pictorial review, published for posterity's sake alone, can be found a druggist, several bankers, a newspaperman, a personnel officer, an attorney, a drive-in owner, an insurance man, a fireman, a men's wear merchant, a real estate developer, a Chamber of Commerce manager, an orchardist-councilman, a property manager, a public utility executive. Also appearing is a female secretary and wives of councilmen. (How did they get into the act?).

That's the best we can do.

Sure, we know. You can't tell the players without a program.

Whether this earth-shaking event is to become an annual affair is still under consideration.

Good arguments have been presented on both sides of the case. The jury is still out.

Most residents unaffected by postal cutback

According to Campbell Postmaster James M. Hurley, the vast majority of Campbell residents will not be affected by the recently announced adjustments in parcel post and post office window services.

The Campbell Postmaster pointed out parcel post deliveries are not affected on city routes where the carriers are on vehicles. On city delivery foot routes parcels up to two pounds will be delivered. The only services will be available on Saturdays and there will be no "close down" in the lobbies for lock box services and mail deposits.

Bank to mark Founder's Day

Local Bank of America employees will conduct Founder's Day ceremonies this Wednesday in memory of the late A.P. Giannini, who founded the bank in San Francisco in 1904. Both branches of the bank in Campbell will mark the anniversary.

Similar observances will be held in all the bank's branches in California and throughout the world.

Feature of the brief ceremony will be a recorded speech by President Rudolph A. Peterson, who terms Giannini a pioneer of modern banking. In tracing highlights of the bank's history, Peterson places special emphasis on Giannini's philosophy of giving each customer personal, individual service.

The Founder's Day ceremonies have been held annually since Giannini's death in 1949. He was born in San Jose 94 years ago.

By Peter Helck
